Paper company holds timber lease

South-end school site unavailable

By RICH ADAMS
Hancock County Schools Superintendent Billy D. Sills said Friday morning a site on US-90 for a proposed south-end high school is not available because the land is presently under a timber lease to St. Regis Paper Company.

Sills said he received a letter from the landowner stating the paper company has a timber lease on the land upon which the school system has been hard-pressed to build a senior high school complex.

Sills revealed the letter after Board Member Louie Ladner asked if Sills could document an average daily attendance (ADA) of more than 250 students in the south end of the county, a prerequisite required by the Educational Finance Committee for approving school plans.

"I can show at least 317 students," Sills replied.

"We show an ADA of at least 90 percent," Board President Woodrow Ladner said.

"When we approve in-school suspension next month, we will show an ADA of 94 percent. That is pretty darn good," he added.

Board Member Oris Ladner then asked if the site for the proposed school had been approved.

"The site (former superintendent) Terry Randolph had selected is not available. It has been leased to St. Regis Paper Company," Sills stated.

"St. Regis owns the lease and will not give it up," he added.

Louie Ladner suggested the board negotiate with the paper company to see if it will release the land to the school system.

In other business at the recess meeting, the board was split as it authorized Sills to advertise for purchase and installation of air conditioners at Gulfview and Charles B. Murphy cafeterias.

The board approved the purchase and installation at a cost of $43,400 in April of 1979, but never followed through on the matter.

Board Member Johnny Banks opposed the issue Monday, saying "We should use the money for classrooms or the new high school."

"If we keep dipping into our funds, we will have no money left to build with," he added.

The board members discussed the price of the air conditioners, which all agreed will have increased since the last advertisement.

"These are way outdated. We cannot hold the companies to these prices," Woodrow Ladner said.

Also Friday, Sills announced the Hancock County System's Title I tutorial reading program has been written about in the Title I News, a statewide publication.

"This Programmed Tutorial Reading has been most effective in meeting the needs of Hancock County's Title I pupils," the article reads.

"Results of current evaluation data show an average per pupil gain of approximately two months academic growth in reading for each month of instruction in the Title I Tutorial Program," the article adds.

"This is good, real good," Sills commented.

In other business Friday, Sills announced renovation of at least four classrooms at the old Clermont Harbor School will be necessary this year.

Sills said four classes, including special education classes and at least one regular classroom, will be completed in the old building due to classroom overcrowding at the two south end elementary schools.

Also Friday, the board approved renewing the lease of the Silver Creek Handicapped Center on a monthly basis at $400 per month until a proposed handicapped school on the Hancock North Central campus is completed.

Sills said the new school will probably be completed in January or February, 1981.

In a related matter, Woodrow Ladner said bid opening for the new handicapped center will be extended five days.

"We will open them July 12. We will probably get better bids that way," Ladner said.

The board recessed until July 3 at 9 a.m.

Hancock General fate tied to new hospital proposal

BY EDGAR PEREZ
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Hancock General Hospital Board of Directors are planning to meet with a Chicago investor who is proposing a new, 50 to 75-bed hospital in the county.

The Chicago attorney, represented on the Gulf Coast by Ms. Joan Penny of ERA-Sand Dollar Realty, Ocean Springs, reportedly has already prepared some $250,000 in plans for the proposed facility.

Supervisor Sam Pernicaro said the Chicago investor is determined to build a hospital on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

"And they have already picked out four possible building sites in Hancock County," the District Four supervisor reported.

The supervisors, hospital directors, a representative of the hospital's medical staff, hospital attorney Sam Favre, hospital administrator Harry Gilmore and Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise met to discuss the matter at the hospital Thursday night.

Ms. Penny had approached the supervisors with her client's proposal at an earlier private meeting with that board, apparently without disclosing specifics on the matter in any detail. The supervisors Thursday were unable to answer many of the hospital directors' questions on the proposal.

"We will contact this gentleman and ask him to meet jointly with the supervisors, hospital board and medical staff as soon as possible," said Supervisor President A. A. (Dolph)

Sirens and blue lights introduce visitors to Hancock hospitality

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
The flashing of blue lights and the wailing of sirens introduced Chester and Charlotte Dow of Portland, Maine to Mississippi hospitality in Hancock County Friday.

The couple had just left the Hospitality Station at I-10 and Hwy. 607 when they were pulled over by Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Dow showed his drivers license to Peterson, saying he knew he wasn't speeding and wondered what was wrong. Jerry Benigno, executive director of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce then stepped in and told the couple they were special guests of Hancock County.

Special treats were on the agenda for the Maine couple as they became part of Hospitality Day in Hancock County.

It started with a free meal for the vacationers and officials, compliments of the Siroin Stockade in Waveland. A dinner for the Dows was provided at the Homestead Restaurant in Bay St. Louis Friday night.

A bouquet of spring flowers from the Flower Shop and one dozen red roses from Adams' Lorraine Flower Shop, both of Bay St. Louis, were presented to Mrs. Dow.

A basket of fruit was given to the couple by Winn-Dixie Food and they were treated to a free motel room for

Bay man rescued

A Bay St. Louis crewman and the captain of a Long Beach shrimpboat were rescued from the Gulf of Mexico Thursday after their vessel sank about 4:30 a.m. that day.

The boat, occupied by its captain, Mike Bishop of Long Beach and crewman Rocklin Gaudin of Bay St. Louis, began taking on water about 4 a.m. three miles south of Long Beach near the Intercoastal Waterway.

Jim Hanley of the Bureau of Marine Resources law enforcement division said Bishop was rescued by the crew of another shrimp boat, the Miss Lisa, about 6 a.m.

He had been clinging to an ice chest in the Gulfport ship channel about two miles from the sunken craft.

The rescue crew notified authorities. And about 7:30 a.m. Marine Resources vessels and Long Beach Air and Marine Rescue boats found Gaudin clinging to the rigging of the sunken boat which was lying in about 15 feet of water.

Both men were taken to the Long Beach harbor.

one night at the Waveland Resort Inn. The couple was escorted in Hancock County for the day by Lisa Smith, Bay St. Louis Miss Hospitality and Waveland's Miss Hospitality Pam Smith.

Four tickets to the Wave Pool at Buccaneer State Park were given the couple.

Restaurant proprietor charged in drug case

By WAYNE DUCOMBE JR.

A Bay St. Louis restaurant owner was arrested by Waveland police Thursday and charged with manufacturing, cultivating and possessing marijuana.

And in Bay St. Louis Wednesday, a local man was arrested and charged with drug possession, speeding and driving under the influence.

The arrest was in connection with three arrests earlier last week on similar charges in Waveland. Investigator Robert (Poochie)

Tartavouille said Friday afternoon, "Darrel Todd, 38, of 107 Nicholson Ave., was arrested at 1:30 p.m. Thursday and charged with possession of over an ounce and manufacture and cultivation of marijuana."

Todd is the owner of the Homestead Restaurant in Bay St. Louis, the investigator added.

Tartavouille reported approximately two pounds of marijuana was found in the Waveland home on the corner of

Waveland is waystation for interstate bike-a-thon

By RICH ADAMS
A group of 18 bicycle riders from the Birmingham, Ala. Teen Challenge Home spent the night in Waveland at the First Assembly of God while on their way to Baton Rouge, La. on a fund raising bike-a-thon.

The group is led by Evangelist Mac Guber, "a reformed motorcycle hoodlum," who is assistant director of the Birmingham drug and alcohol reform home.

The group is cycling 300 miles from Gulf Shores, Ala. to Baton Rouge in the annual fund raiser for the Teen Challenge home.

Teen Challenge was founded by David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross" and the "Switchblade."

The 18 bikers were overnight guests Thursday of Rev. Charles Clark, pastor of the Waveland First Assembly of God.

"We had originally planned to have about 35 cyclists participate in the event and raise $5,000, but the bad weather caused a lot of people to back out and we will not make nearly that amount," Guber said.

"We have the highest success rate for rehabilitating drug and alcohol addicts in the country," he continued.

"Five years ago the federal government moved to have us shut down because it claimed we could not possibly have the success rate we reported. The government decided to conduct a survey to determine our actual rate," Guber explained.

"The government only has a two- to six-percent success rate at a cost of $17 billion a year. We told officials we had a 70 percent success rate," he continued.

"The government study did prove our reports were false-it discovered we have an 88 percent success rate," he added.

"We do not use alternate drugs to treat our brothers or sisters. We just use Jesus," Guber said.

Guber told horror stories of how he was a "murderer and rapist," as a member of a motorcycle gang in San Diego, California.

"I was a karate instructor in Danang, Vietnam. I really thought I was tough," Guber said.

"I never realized one day I would have to stand before the Lord and be accountable for all I have done," he continued.

"One day I walked into my dark room and I saw Jesus on the cross, and he looked at me and said 'Mac, I love you.' After all I had done, here Jesus was telling me he still loves me," Guber said.

"I didn't trust myself because of all the drugs I was taking, and I asked God to give me another sign to show

There's an Answer!

by Norman Vincent Peale and Ruth Stafford Peale

"Gone to the dogs"
Q. How can one stand 13 dogs in a mobile home? They shake themselves, and mud flies everywhere. They sleep on the beds and furniture. Every night I have to wash all the floors. The carpets were so dirty and mildewed from urine we had to burn them all. The barking is deafening. I have to go and sit in the woods away from all this. Relatives and friends refuse to visit us anymore. They can't get in the door for dogs. They also complain about the odor and the hair. My husband tells me if I don't like it, get out. I am 68 and Social Security isn't enough to live on. What can I do?

A. The situation you describe is not only unpleasant; it is unhealthy. Some way must be found to provide homes for some of the 13 dogs. Go to the local pound or SPCA. Advertise in the "Free" column of your local paper. Convince your husband that others will care well for the animals, leaving you two to live in an environment fit not for dog but for man.

visitors at the station until they felt they had found the right couple.

Mr. Dow said, "The Hancock County Hospitality Station is the best we have ever seen. We have visited them in just about every state east of the Mississippi and you have the best."

As the photographers flashed their lights, Mrs. Dow kept saying, "The only day I wore my shorts on vacation."

The couple, who now reside in Portland, are ironically from Deer Isle which is in Hancock County, Maine. They said the area is similar to Hancock County, Miss., a resort area with ocean coastline, known as the Lobster Capital of the world.

High praises were expressed by the couple for the hospitality in the South as they have been vacationing for years in the southern states. They said they began their travel in the South after their son was stationed in North Carolina and had visited him.

In talking about his native state, Mr. Dow commented, "Maine is missing the boat, the people here are reaching out their hand to catch and welcome you. In Maine the people put out their hand and hope no one will catch it."

"We have only one hospitality station in the state, and tourism is not promoted like you folks in Mississippi and the South do," the Maine vacationers allowed.

The Dow's said they were headed for Longview, Texas but changed their mind when they heard of the temperatures in recent days there.

They had spent the previous night in New Orleans.

"We try to travel and stop where we think we will like to stay and that makes it a great vacation. With four weeks off we travel until we see some place we like and then stop," Mrs. Dow stated.

Mr. Dow is an employee of American Holst and Derrick company, Portland. He said they have 17 locations in the U.S. and five in foreign countries.

The vacationers were welcomed at the Sirloin Stockade by Wayne Ducomb, president, and Richard Thomas, vice-president, Hancock Chamber of Commerce.

A.A. (Dolph) Kellar, president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, presented the honorees with an honorary citizenship to Hancock.

Larry Bennett, mayor of Bay St. Louis and Barbara Rappold, mayor protem, City of Waveland, presented Mr. and Mrs. Dow with honorary citizenships.

The local festivities were staged in conjunction with a state-wide celebration in Mississippi of Hospitality Day as declared by George Williams, director of tourism.

The Hospitality Station in Hancock opened in February and Mrs. Dillard mentioned that they had already set a record in the number of people stopping for the month of June.

The National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL) had an open house with tours all day Friday.

Tim Carpenter, an employee of Pan Am, had an exhibit of a piece of a moon rock on display at the Hospitality Center, and also told the travelers of the open house at NSTL.

Ms. Dillard's staff presented balloons, pencils and receipts to travelers in addition to the regular items such as coffee, coke or orange drinks.

Ms. Benigno stated, "I am well pleased with the cooperation of everyone in this venture. Everyone was willing to help. Their help has really made it a Hospitality Day for Hancock County. Thanks to everyone."

Bits 'n pieces

The new Selective Service registration seems to have some folks upset, but we feel it is a very good move on the United States' part for our national defense.

We just wonder how many 'chickens or jelly fish' we will have with the registrations like we had during the 60's and 70's.

Many of us did our bit for the freedom of this nation and we think each and everyone of us should continue to do our share.

The fire at Cat Island caused much concern last weekend with the Coast Guard receiving many telephone calls.

We hope the fire started accidentally because so much damage was caused by the fire, notably destruction of young trees and grasses which also help in keeping the island together during storms.

We realize we had some rain in recent days, but it does not take too long for it to dry out again in our area.

We ask you again, please be careful with fire.

We know we have praised our library on numerous occasions, yet we feel we cannot give them enough recognition for the job they continue to do.

This week we noticed the large numbers of children involved in the summer reading program-it is great.

The entire make-up of our library system including the volunteers should all be commended for a very good job well done.

We feel our library system tops them all.

An event coming next Saturday will be the Blessing of the Fleet at Bayou Cadet.

We hope many of you will get your boats out, (if you can find a launch) decorate them and maybe even win a prize.

Of course there should be good sights for the spectators as well. So take a drive to the end of the seawall and enjoy yourself next Saturday.

The fleet blessing will be sponsored by the Gulf Fishermen, Inc. with financial assistance from the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

We still hear only bad news on the shrimp season. We have only heard of one boat catching 200 pounds one day.

We can remember reports of local shrimpers catching up to ten barrels on opening days in years gone by.

One thing now, of course, is the fact that there are so many more people after the shrimp, dividing them up.

We hope the shrimp catches will pickup in the coming days.

The cost of fuel so high, we heard one alleged shrimper say the three shrimp he caught were worth $30 apiece.

SPECIAL REPORT:

Export Policy

Are you aware that 14 percent of all U.S. goods are produced for overseas markets? Did you know that 40 percent of agricultural sales in our own state of Mississippi are to foreign customers? That one of every 12 manufacturing jobs in the State results from exports?

With all this in mind, one of my latest legislative initiatives is sponsorship of the National Export Policy Act of 1980, in which I have joined with Senator Bill Roth of Delaware and Senator Adlai Stevenson of Illinois as an original cosponsor.

Exports are a vital part of our American economy, but we are falling behind in our efforts to compete for profits in foreign markets.

Because of the importance of exports to our national and state economies, and to combat some of the problems confronting American firms seeking to do business abroad, we feel this legislation is very essential to future market development overseas.

Passage of this act would be a significant step toward making positive contribution to the health of our economy, which as all of us know, is in serious trouble at the present time.

At a time when unemployment is steadily rising, we need to explore every alternative to increase job opportunities. Additional exports offer us a real opportunity to provide jobs for an expanding labor force. For each $1 billion in new exports, about 40,000 jobs are created.

Here in Mississippi the livelihood of our Gulf Coast and inland waterway ports depends on the more than one-half billion dollars shipped overseas each year.

We hear more and more in the news how other nations are challenging the United States in industrial might, with their products and technology supplanting our own in the international marketplace.

Excessive paperwork created by our own government, double taxation, lack of information as to export sales opportunities, and inadequate financing at competitive rates are factors that frustrate efforts.

There are political as well as economic consequences that flow from a weak export policy, or no policy at all. U.S. failure to meet international competition for expanding markets in developing countries is another sign of the loss of leadership suffered by our nation in recent years.

Our trade deficit has weakened the dollar, and with it the considerable economic strength our sound currency once gave the United States. Declining economic strength in the world in the face of stiff economic and technological competition from the Japanese, West Germans, and others, is a necessary ingredient of declining political influence of the United States throughout the world.

Our National Export Policy declares that this trend can be reversed and a surplus restored to our balance of payments in foreign trade.

This act is a clear statement by Congress of the importance exports already play, and our determination to encourage those in the export business to overcome some of the problems they now face.

The legislation is also an effort to provide incentives for involvement in foreign trade by U.S. businesses that do not now participate.

The government ought to be trying to help those who want to sell goods overseas rather than frustrating their efforts. I am convinced if we can make things easier for our exporters by simplifying paperwork and eliminating conflicting and confusing regulations, U.S. companies will move swiftly to make up for lost ground in world trade.

Agriculture, of course, is also important to our national export effort. With farm products comprising 20 percent of total U.S. exports, it makes sense that agricultural exports should continue to be a "growth" area. The U.S. Department of Agriculture should make the maximum effort to keep our farm commodities competitive throughout the world.

I am greatly encouraged by the initiatives reflected in the National Export Policy Act of 1980. A critical aspect of our national economic policy should now receive the serious attention it deserves.

News from the governor's office

Governor William Winter last week visited Mississippi national guardsmen during their annual field training at Camp Shelby near Hattiesburg.

Winter toured various sections of the installation by helicopter and jeep, meeting guardsmen in the fields.

Winter observed members of the engineering battalion, including the Raft Brigade which ferries equipment and personnel across lakes and streams, and the decontamination unit.

Winter's tour included observation of field command units, artillery personnel, and support services. He also observed military maneuvers.

At the governor's request, there were no special personnel formations or interruptions of training exercises during his visit.

Winter had requested to see the troops in their "normal" training situations.

"I was very much impressed with what I saw," Winter said of the tour. "What I observed attests to the ability of our country to defend itself. I was very impressed with the quality of training available at Camp Shelby for our military personnel."

While at the camp, Winter spoke at the dedication of a 40-acre recreational lake, named in honor of former Adjutant General Glenn D. Walker who initiated its construction. Winter expressed appreciation to Walker for his years of "Professional leadership for the guard."

The governor spent much of last week attending the annual meeting of the Southern Regional Education Board, which seeks to improve the quality of

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD

Recent news reports have indicated several threats by public employee unions to strike for higher wages and benefits, creating a situation in which the public good is generally ignored.

Public employees who perform services essential to the health and safety of a community - including law enforcement, fire protection, and waste disposal - have a sacred trust to uphold with the public.

And, public employees do not have the same relationship to the public as private employees to their employer regarding strikes or threats of strikes.

Strikes of this nature result in transferring government taxing and spending powers from elected officials to non-elected persons, union negotiators.

The Mississippi Economic Council opposes granting public employees the right to strike or to bargain collectively. The MEC believes that it is essential that authority and power given to elected officials not be delegated to a person or organization which is answerable to neither governmental authority nor to the public.

reluctant to sell Hancock General, especially since bonds on the facility will be retired next year.

The hospital was financed with federal funds authorized by the Hill-Burton Act of 1958.

The present facility is some 20 years old "and badly in need of a general, over-all facelift," according to Dr. J.D. Rutherford III who represented Dr. Sidney Chevis, chief-of-staff.

—Should Hancock General be operated until a new, private hospital could be completed and then be abandoned by the county?

"Suppose a private hospital operated here for maybe a year and decided they couldn't make it—and turned their operation into a nursing home, leaving the county without a hospital," Necaise speculated.

Gilmore pointed out many private hospitals, such as Garden Park in Gulfport, operate without emergency rooms, thus cutting one of the major hospital operating expenses.

The supervisors and hospital officials appeared unanimous in the feeling the county must not be left without an emergency room facility and care for the indigent poor under any circumstances.

Rev. Charles R. Johnson, hospital board chairman, noted the hospital currently enjoys a $160,000 surplus, but Gilmore pointed out the facility operated at a $43,784 loss during the previous 12 months, "in spite of a moratorium on wages and hiring and an all-out effort to keep expenses to an absolute minimum."

Johnson noted, "The hospital requires an average patient load or 'census' of 37 to 40 per day for us to break even on operations, and we have averaged 33 patients per day during the past fiscal year."

Hospital director Brother Martin of St. Stanislaus High School said, "If we don't get our census up, we could use up our reserve and find ourselves in a position within a year where we couldn't meet our payroll."

With an eye toward the millage which will be freed next year when the hospital bond issue is retired, Hospital Board Treasurer Conrad Mauffray told the supervisors, "Our operation will take care of itself, but we need help with new equipment and maintenance."

Kellar said, "I'll do anything I can to keep this hospital open."

"But we are in the process now of preparing our budgets for the coming fiscal year which begins in October, and every department of county government feels it is highly essential and needs more money to combat inflation," Kellar continued.

"But a line just has to be drawn somewhere and soon, because I don't think our people are going to accept higher taxes," the president of the supervisors exclaimed.

MEDICAL OPINION
"We think we give a really good service, but we would make a plea for help from the supervisors in improving the looks of the hospital," Rutherford stated.

"It would be a tragedy not to have an emergency room in Hancock County, that's where we do our best work and where we save the most patients," the doctor observed.

"We may not need to add beds here but we must improve our services with new specialists and the equipment they will need; we must improve the atmosphere and appearances of the physical plant if we expect to increase the census," the doctor continued.

"I would look close at this private offer, we need help and it's not necessarily important where the help comes from," Rutherford concluded.

Perniclaro feels the Chicago attorney's proposal might turn out to be worth serious consideration.

"We might be able to get a good hospital in the county without taxpayer money," he offered.

The destiny of Hancock General is apparently linked to the proposed new hospital in that the Mississippi Health Systems Agency, Inc. must issue a "certificate of need" for more hospital beds in the county before any new facilities may be built, the officials observed.

BOATING SAFETY TIP

The best thing for boatmen to do in case of bad weather is to stay in port, advises the Committee for National Safe Boating. However, here's what to do if you are caught out on the water in bad weather: Don't lifesaving devices. Head for the nearest sheltered shore. If the water is very choppy, seat your passengers in the lowest part of the vessel, keeping them as close to the centerline as possible and head into the waves at reduced speed. Should your motor fail, or the sea gets so rough you can't make headway, attach a sea anchor from the bow to keep the boat headed into the wind—a bucket, attached to a line, will do the job in an emergency. Keep calm. Panic spreads easily, and a well-found small boat is capable of surviving in bad weather if handled calmly and correctly.

Highway Patrol acts in Hancock ticketing case

A Mississippi Highway Patrolman formerly assigned to Hancock County has been suspended with pay following a patrol investigation into allegations of misconduct.

Highway Patrol Chief Donald Butler said Friday Raburne L. Silkwood, a 12-year veteran who was transferred from Gulfport to Starkville in March, was suspended Friday for allegedly violating the department's ticket writing regulations.

Butler added that Silkwood, 42, also allegedly committed other violations, including failure to follow procedure in reporting to work at Starkville.

The investigation into Silkwood's activities began earlier this year after publication of reports that he wrote almost 8,000 tickets in 1979, about 11 times the average number written by other patrolmen.

The reports said that more than half the citations went to Hancock County

Justice Court Judge Lloyd W. Anderson.

Silkwood was transferred from patrol duty to radio operations in February 1979 to the investigation and was moved to the Starkville District in March as a radio operator once the probe had started.

Butler said at the time the move to Starkville had no connection with the internal investigation.

Butler refused to elaborate Friday on the allegations against Silkwood, but said, "It was not for writing too many tickets. It was for not following procedures in writing tickets. We'd be prejudging the man if we put all the facts out in the media."

Silkwood's hearing is scheduled for July 16.

Butler said the Silkwood would have no other avenue of appeal if he is dismissed.

Nicholson and Beach Boulevard. Todd's arrest followed the arrest June 20 of Daniel Burch, 26; Troy Langlais, 21; and Nathan J. Matherne, 26, at the residence.

"Nick Haas Jr. of Bay St. Louis was also charged with possession of less than one ounce of marijuana," Tartavouille said.

"We also found over 200 marijuana plants in terrariums, other controlled substances, four boxes of paraphernalia, several rolls of obscene film and obscene literature," Tartavouille explained.

"Todd was arrested and released on $7,500 bond," the investigator said.

"Participating in the arrests were Highway Patrol Investigators Mickey Ladner and Joe Price; Waveland Investigator Sandra Henley; Patrolmen John Wilkerson, Claude Varborough, Chuck James, Veronica Hattabaugh; and myself," Tartavouille reported.

"Todd's case is scheduled for hearing in city court Thursday," Tartavouille stated.

"We are keeping close surveillance on the narcotics situation in our city," the investigator added.

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams reported Friday morning, "Donald K. Thomas, 21, of Route 2, Box 499, was charged with possession of marijuana over one ounce, possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute, speeding and driving under the influence."

"Thomas also had $689 in cash and the value of the marijuana and drugs is estimated at $1,800," Williams reported.

Williams said Thomas is now in county jail under $5,000 bond.

"At 11:15 p.m. Patrolman Albert Blehl noticed a late model automobile speeding on Ulman Avenue. He chased and stopped the vehicle," the police chief said.

"When the patrolman spoke with the driver he noticed the man apparently did not have control over himself," Williams stated.

"When the patrolman asked Thomas what was wrong with him, he told Blehl and Auxiliary Officer Edwin Williams he had smoked a 'reefer' and was going to get something to drink," Williams reported.

"The officer asked Thomas if he had any more marijuana and the driver readily handed the officer three 'joints' of marijuana," the police chief stated.

"The officer shined his flashlight into the automobile. He saw a plastic bag on the console and reached into the car only to have the bag snatched out of his hand by Thomas. Thomas then sped off in his car," Williams said.

"The officers chased Thomas and caught him," Williams reported.

"Assisting the two policemen in the incident were Patrolmen Larry Ladner and Louis Hearty, and Investigator Matthew Karl," Williams added.

Baron was present at the recess meeting.

"Nobody from Baron is here to receive the information of our appraisal. I prefer no details of our report be made public," McDonald said.

"I prefer a prospective tenant not open a newspaper and read of our recommendations without being present at the meeting," he added.

At a June 12 meeting, Wehre had said the budget "will not be a secret this year."

Last year J.D. McCulloch, then commission president, had ordered the contents of the budget be kept secret following approval by the commission.

That budget was recinded one week later and returned to the committee for changes.

Following Thursday's closed-door session, both the budget and the Baron proposals were tabled.

Also at Thursday's meeting, the commission discussed shoaling at Cross Bayou and Pearl River near the entrance channel to Port Bienville.

"Engineer Kim Moore estimates the April floods this year deposited approximately 100,000 cubic yards of white sand at a bend near the main channel to Port Bienville," Wehre reported to the commission.

Commissioner Fred Curet asked when the sand bars would begin to effect barge traffic into the port.

"I imagine the effect is being noticed now," Wehre replied.

"The first time a barge loaded with explosives gets snagged at the entrance and has to sit out there until high tide it's going to be very expensive," McDonald interjected.

A number of owners, trainers and jockeys from Bay St. Louis, Waveland and the Kiln area were highly successful at Oak Downs.
The track features a 6-horse starting gate and a covered grandstand. It is a 1/2-mile oval with a straight-away for quarter horse races up to 440 yards. Equipment includes a photo-finish camera which shows the results in hundredths of a second.

Oak Downs is being re-opened by the track from Eddie Holdsworth of Pearl River, on whose property the track is located.
Zundel has trained horses at Oak Downs previously, and also has racing experience at the New Orleans Fair Grounds and Kenner's Jefferson Downs.

At the height of its popularity, Oak Downs held an average of 20 races each Sunday afternoon and drew fans from Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Texas.
The first race is set to start at 1 p.m. Zundel said he plans to hold two-year-old futurities for both quarter horses and thoroughbreds in the fall.
Oak Downs is located off Louisiana 41 just south of Pearl River on the Pine Street extension. A full line of refreshments, including beer and soft drinks, will be available.

July birthstone more valuable than diamond

By JOE PILET
Of all precious gems the ruby is of greatest worth.
A clear, transparent and faultless ruby of a uniform deep red color is at the present time the most valuable precious stone known, according to Dr. Max Bauer, author of the authoritative guide book Precious Stones.

For example, a one carat ruby is worth twice as much as a one carat diamond of equal quality and a three carat ruby is worth ten times as much as a diamond of the same description.
Rubies are described as being male or female, depending on the coloration. The "masculine" ruby is shaded from pale rose-red to reddish white. (Some rubies are so faintly colored they appear almost clear. By far the most coveted ruby is the "pigeon's blood." Burmese compared the stone's color to that of the blood of a freshly killed pigeon.

The Ruby belongs to the mineral specie corundum, which also produced the lovely blue sapphire.

LEGAL NOTICES

MISSISSIPPI FORESTRY COMMISSION

908 Robert E. Lee Building

Jackson, Mississippi

INVITATION FOR BIDS

ON COUNTY SCHOOL LANDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Hancock County Board of Education at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, Hancock County, up to and not later than 9 a.m., July 7, 1980, for the purchase on a lump sum basis of all timber, standing or down, designated for cutting in Section 18, Township 9S., Range 15W., estimated to contain 1176 cords of pulpwood more or less. The above figures are not to be construed to be the exact volume marked.

Each bidder is expected to make his own cruise and to bid accordingly. Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber, the conditions of the sale and the submission of the bids should be obtained from the Hancock County Superintendent of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, or the District Forester, Mississippi Forestry Commission, Wiggins, Mississippi. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

This is a simple row thinning of a pine plantation. Every third row is designated to be sold and removed. At a minimum, every 5th tree in a row that is to be removed was marked with a good spot of orange paint.

Proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, money order, or bid bond in the amount of five percent (5 percent) of the maximum total of the proposal, made payable to the Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. If a bid bond is used, it shall be signed or counter-signed by a Mississippi agent of a surety company qualified and authorized to do business in the State, as required by law. Cash or uncertified checks shall not be accepted, and if attached shall disqualify the bid. All timber will be paid for when the timber contract is signed. The successful bidder must deposit with the Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, ten percent (10 percent) of the total bid to guarantee the faithful performance of each and every article of the timber sale contract. Upon written notice of completion of the contract in full by the buyer, the Seller will return the performance bond in full, less any money withheld as damages by the Seller.

Bids should be addressed to the Hancock County Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. The envelope should be clearly marked to indicate that it contains a bid for timber.

The timber may be inspected at any time.

Representatives of the Mississippi Forestry Commission will meet all interested buyers on the steps of the courthouse, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, at 1:00 p.m., July 26, 1980, to show them the tract of timber and explain markings, how trees were measured, expected volume from specific trees, and answer other questions. The contract will be for a period of 12 months from the date of signing, and will provide for a 6 month extension by mutual agreement of the Seller and Buyer, in case inclement weather should disrupt logging for an appreciable time.

The Mississippi Forestry Commission does hereby fix $9400 as the minimum acceptable price for the designated timber. In submitting a bid, please mail your bid and bid bond in an envelope addressed as follows:

Sealed bids will be received by the Hancock County Board of Education at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, Hancock County, up to and not later than 9 a.m., July 7, 1980, for the purchase on a lump sum basis of all timber, standing or down marked with yellow paint for cutting in Section 16, Township 6S., Range 14W., estimated to contain 886 cords of pulpwood more or less. The above figures are not to be construed to be the exact volume marked.

Each bidder is expected to make his own cruise and to bid accordingly. Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale and submission of bids should be obtained from the Hancock County Superintendent of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, or the District Forester, Mississippi Forestry Commission, Wiggins, Mississippi. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

All timber to be sold has been marked with yellow paint on the stump. Only those trees that are marked with yellow paint are to be sold and stump markings must be visible after cutting. Trees that are marked with a "X" or marked at the stump only were considered to be culls. Their volume was not tallied, but they may be cut at the option of the Buyer.

Proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, money order, or bid bond in the amount of five percent (5 percent) of the maximum total of the proposal, made payable to the Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. If a bid bond is used, it shall be signed or counter-signed by a Mississippi agent of a surety company qualified and authorized to do business in the State, as required

The Mississippi Forestry Commission does hereby fix $5400 as the minimum acceptable price for the designated timber.
